

Caleb Troy Grant was born and raised in Roswell and I am a third generation Roswellite. Growing up I was very active in sports, playing basketball, baseball and football. I was also active in the youth at Berrendo Baptist Church where my father Troy Grant is the pastor. I attended New Mexico Boys State in 2003 and graduated from Goddard High School in 2004. After graduation I relocated to Albuquerque to attend the University of New Mexico. I was fortunate to get a job with Nalco Chemical as a contractor to work at the Intel Rio Rancho facility. In 2007 I married my wife Emily Alpers Grant of Roswell. While finishing up college I worked my way up to management with Nalco and covered 7 states with their service division. In 2009 I completed my Bachelor of Science in Business Management, and Emily and I decided to look at trying to get back home to Roswell. At the end of 2009, we made the move back home to open an insurance agency with Farm Bureau Financial Services. I started my agency from scratch and truly have been blessed. I earned rookie agent of the year in 2010 and overall agency of the year and top home insurance agent in 2011 for New Mexico. Once back in Roswell, I coached many youth sports with family and friends. I also coached the Gateway Christian School high school boys basketball team with my father Troy Grant from 2010-2012. Emily and I have one son Hudson (3) and will have our second son in June. Emily works for DBS Commodities in Midway. We attend Christ Church and Berrendo Baptist Church.
